THE CLEVER WOMAN.

Two Kinds of Cleverness, but Only One That Really Pays.

"I wish I were clever."

The woman was charmingly dimpled, wore a Felix gown, was the mistress of a luxurious establishment, and was dispensing tea to afternoon callers in cups of priceless fineness.

"Women who write" had been the subject on the topic, and the remark was a delicate compliment to the woman to whom she handed the tea. She was a successful writer—successful at the extent of making a good income as the fruit of unrewarded industry. She had never known the delights of diamonds or her own carriage or a box at the opera. She sometimes spent a hard earned $5 for a drive, but there was neither luxury in the carriage nor swiftness in the steeds, and she was conscious all through the drive that when she went back to the office she would write something about the country in spring or the flats of fall foliage and flowers with which the suburban resident could decorate his house and table.

If she took a $2 seat in the opera house, she rarely lost herself completely in the music, as she would have liked to do, because skeletons of paragraphs on theater hate and theater manners, on lovers who make love in the stalls as well as on the stage, and a thousand other things for the next day's paper filled through her mind. She never had a Felix gown; on the contrary, she walked ten blocks and climbed seven stories to find a dressmaker who would make, though at the same time mar, her one gown for $10. Her modest house was pretty, and she was even quite famous for her petite soupers, at which one sometimes met eminent and always delightful people, but only herself and her one maid knew at what cost of purpling brow and smudged fingers and aching back those dainty little dishes were evolved.

So there was almost reverence in her tones as she replied:

"My dear, you are the clever woman; you are far more clever than George Eliot. The really smart woman is not the one who makes her own daily bread, even though there be a Nesselrode pudding thrown in now and then. It is she who, without raising her hand, can cause all this luxury to be laid at her pretty satin shod feet. It is like eating a Delmonico dinner and lamenting that you are not the chef who cooked it. Not the woman who works, but she who gets all there is in life without working, is the really clever woman."

"May there not be two kinds of cleverness?" said the woman who came to make her adieu. —New York Herald.

MEN WITH POOR MEMORIES.

Names of Friends and Even Servants Suddenly Forgotten.

An amusing instance of aphasia was that of an old country gentleman, who retained in his employ a large number of servants, most of whom he had known since childhood.

Wishing one day to suddenly summon his butler, he found that the man's name had for the moment, as he thought, escaped him. He determined to call his footman, but to his surprise he discovered that he could no more remember the man's name than the butler's.

He was all the more astonished when he found that he had entirely forgotten the names of every man and woman in his service.

He had also forgotten the names of his most intimate acquaintances, and so set about providing substitutes. Every man was known by his peculiarities; certain persons of rank in the neighborhood he called the "king" or the "queen" or the "grand vizier"; his butler and footman were respectively "old waiter" and "young waiter."

Another curious instance of aphasia was that of a famous Berlin physician. He was sitting in his study one morning, writing a receipt for a bill, when suddenly, after having written two words, he lost all sense of their meaning.

He tried to write on, but found he could think of no word. He threw down his pen in despair, and attempted to speak, but was equally unsuccessful.

This was one of those cases, however, which soon pass off, and in a short time he was able to finish the receipt.

MAJORITY FOR THE GOLD STANDARD.

The Fortifications Bill Passed—The Corliss Amendment Agreed To.

The returns are all in from the elections for delegates to the Republican National Convention. The full convention will consist of 918 delegates, and it will take 460 votes to adopt a platform and nominate a candidate. Congressman Grosvenor of Ohio, the McKinley statistician, tabulates the States and delegates on the financial question as follows:

For the gold standard—Connecticut 12, Delaware 6, Georgia 26, Illinois 48, Indiana 30, Kentucky 26, Maine 12, Maryland 16, Massachusetts 39, Minnesota 18, Missouri 34, Nebraska 16, New Hampshire 8, New Jersey 20, New York 72, North Dakota 6, Pennsylvania 64, Rhode Island 8, Tennessee 24, Vermont 8, Washington 8, Wisconsin 21. Total, 512.

For free coinage of gold and silver—Alabama 22, California 18, Colorado 8, Idaho 6, Montana 6, Nevada 6, North Carolina 22, Oklahoma 6, Utah 6, Wyoming 6, Arizona 6. Total, 110.

The States whose platforms can be construed any way to suit the ideas of the voter, and the number of delegates to which each is entitled, are: Michigan 28, Mississippi 18, Ohio 46, Iowa 26, Oregon 8, South Dakota 8, Virginia 24, Washington 8. Total 166.

The Texas and South Carolina conventions were divided, the Black and Tans, or colored factions in each declaring for gold and the Lily Whites for silver, making 48 undecided.

No reference was made to the financial question in Arkansas, Florida, Louisiana, Kansas, West Virginia, New Mexico, District of Columbia and Indian Territory, which have a total of 82 votes, and the status of Alaska, with two votes, is unknown.

These figures, which are said to be authentic, show that the gold standard men will have a large majority in the Republican National Convention and will dictate the platform as well as name the candidates for President and Vice-President.

SENATOR MANTLE'S VIEWS.

Senator Mantle of Montana, who heads the uninstructed delegation from that State to the Republican National Convention, predicts that McKinley will be nominated. He believes the free silver men will bolt if a gold platform is adopted and join the free silver men of other parties. "The Montana delegation," Senator Mantle says, "will vote for any good silver man for President, but McKinley is not regarded as a silver man in the West. We do not want a gold standard candidate, no matter what the leaders who want place may say, as the people will not follow them. The people know what their interests are, and they will not be led to vote against them. There is not much doubt that if the Silver States can make enough showing, they will walk out of the St. Louis Convention if a gold platform is adopted."

How does that declaration from a Republican Senator suit the Nevada delegation to St. Louis? Will they follow the Silver banner of Senator Teller and prove that they are really, what they pretend to be, in favor of the free coinage of silver at the ratio of 16 to 1? If not, will they unmash and show the world that they are anything for office, and will support McKinley, Reed, Morton, or whoever may be nominated, for the privilege of getting a place in the procession to the public crib?

UNPLEASANT INFORMATION.

The paper has been informed that the "sound money" Democrats will not only be in a hopeless minority in the Chicago Convention, but that the free coinage majority will insist on resolutions being adopted denouncing the financial policy of his administration as undemocratic and unconstitutional. The free silver majority in the convention will not be less than 200, and some estimates place it as high as 275.

This is the most unpleasant news that has reached the ears of the Great Goldbug of the White House since his inauguration. It is not stated that he followed the example of despots in oiden times and ordered the bearer of the undesirable information to a dungeon or the headman's block. It imparted to him the knowledge that the party which triumphantly elected him a few years ago feel that he has sold it out to the gold trust and that he does not represent its principles. He will probably now announce that he is not a candidate for a third term, as he realizes the fact that the gold element of the party, though it may nominate a candidate, will flock to the Republican camp, where it will be at home and welcomed.

ELECTIONEERING SERVICES.

In Dane county, Wisconsin, suit was brought by an individual against the newly elected Sheriff for $500 alleged to be due for services in getting men out to caucuses and otherwise aiding the Sheriff in securing the nomination and election. The case was dismissed in the Circuit Court, the Judge holding that the account was uncollected because the consideration was averse to public policy.

This is said to be the first case of the kind ever brought into court in the West and the summary manner in which the court disposed of it is not racing. A delegate thought the res-likely to encourage others having similar claims to attempt to collect them by law. Strikers henceforth in Wisconsin will insist on payment in advance for drumming up partisans to attend primary meetings and conventions in the interest of individuals.

CONGRESSIONAL PROCEEDINGS.

The Fortifications Bill Passed—The Corliss Amendment Agreed To.

WASHINGTON, May 20.—In the Senate the Gorman amendment, providing for certificates of indebtedness to the amount of $100,000,000, was laid on the table by a vote of 42 to 9.

The Senate has passed the Fortification Appropriation bill, leaving only the General Deficiency bill yet unacted upon.

In the House the Corliss amendment to the immigration bill, rendering contracts with aliens to perform labor in the United States null and void, and making it a misdemeanor for persons to perform labor in the United States who have become citizens of the United States and returned to Canada to reside, was agreed to in the House by 121 to 45.

The McCall Immigration bill, providing an educational test for intending immigrants, as amended by the Corliss Canadian labor section, passed the House to-day by 196 to 23. The Stone consular inspection substitute was passed.

A farmer near Honeyville, Box Elder county, Utah, found in a canyon what he took to be a piece of petrified bacon. Investigation, however, showed it to be onyx, and a variety not heretofore discovered in Utah, being of a greenish tint. A ledge four feet in thickness has been discovered.

It is reported that the Utah Midland has already commenced work on its Deep Creek line. Last week the company entered the market for 400,000 tons, enough to complete the road to Deep Creek. Great interest is being manifested all along the proposed line from Salt Lake to Cherry Creek.

Carson was startled by the news of an elopement Sunday morning. Miss Mamie Farrell, only daughter of Mike Farrell, for years an employee at the railroad shops, skipped by the light of the moon with Charley Feebe, a young fellow who hailed with his parents from Stockton some months ago.

A dangerous counterfeit coin is in circulation in San Francisco. It is a 50-cent piece bearing date of March, 1895, and it is said thousands of dollars in the spurious coins are in circulation on the coast. It is made of almost pure silver and is stamped after the manner of a regular minted coin. To the unpracticed eye there seems to be no difference between it and the regulation minted coin. Closer inspection will reveal that the ear on the head of Liberty is not as well indented as on the Government coin, while on the reverse side the imprint of the stars surrounding the eagle is rather indistinct.

President Kruger of the South African Republic, has pardoned 59 prisoners, sentenced to fine and imprisonment. Those do not include Hammond Phillips, Farrar and Rhodes.

C. M. England, an attorney at East Los Angeles, Cal., shot his wife through the head as she lay asleep, after which he wrote several letters and then lay down by his wife's body and shot himself.

Thomas Wren was shot and probably fatally wounded by his wife yesterday in Chicago. She fired five shots two of which took effect in the doctor's head and one in his left arm. Jealousy was the cause.

The New Hampshire Democratic State Convention heartily endorsed Cleveland's course in maintaining the public credit in the face of formidable opposition and declared for the gold standard.

It is thought that a clue to the whereabouts of Blanier, who is wanted for the murder of Mrs. Langfeldt in San Francisco, has been found at Stockton. A man answering his description had a bicycle repaired at the latter named Drug Store.

MARRIED.

SMITH—FOLEY—In Reno, Nevada, May 20, 1896, by Rev. J. C. O'Neil, of the Church of Mexico to Mrs. Minnie D. Foley of Reno.

DALE—GRAY—In Reno, May 20, 1896, by Justice Lunn, Theo. Dale of Carson to Alisa Velie Guy of Gold Hill.

The Board of Regents of the University of California has adopted resolutions accepting Mayor Sutro's gift of a site for the affiliated colleges and commanding the Mayor for his public spirit and devotion to the good of the Commonwealth.

A passenger car on the San Leandro and Haywards electric road jumped the track yesterday, injuring seventeen persons more or less severely. The car was going at a high rate of speed and the flange on one of the front wheels broke.

The Young Men's Institute in session at Haywards, California, paraded yesterday. The buildings were beautifully decorated and the streets crowded with spectators, and as the long procession marched with bands playing and flags flying the scene was inspiring.

A Petrotin dispatch says the Executive Council decided that the punishment of Rhodes, Phillips, Farrar and John Hays Hammond of the Reform Committee should be fifteen years' imprisonment. Hopes are entertained that the sentences will be modified.

The Iowa Democratic Convention, which met at Dubuque yesterday, elected ex-Governor Boies delegate-at-large to Chicago and adopted a free coinage platform. All the delegates, except those from the First and Second Congressional districts, are for free silver.

The cause of the anti-missionary riots at Kiang Yang, China, on the 12th instant was the admission of a native child to the hospital. The mob demanded the child and upon the refusal of the missionaries to give it up, wrecked the buildings, which were American property.

Henry Bigelow one of the most brilliant and best known newspaper men of San Francisco, died of cancer at St. Luke's hospital. One of his greatest achievements was securing an interview with Bandits Sontag and Evans, at the time they were hiding in the mountains and holding the officers at bay.

The Committee on the State of the Church in the M. E. Conference reported against any change in the rule prohibiting the use or encouragement of the use of liquor, dancing, games of chance, theatres, circuses or horse racing. A delegate thought the restrictions should be revised, for if they are to stand why not include billiards, football, etc., but the report of the committee was sustained by an overwhelming majority.

In the Senate Gorman moved an amendment to the Fortifications bill providing for issuing certificates of indebtedness to any amount not exceeding $100,000,000, in denominations of $20, $50 and $100 bearing interest at three percent per annum and redeemable at the pleasure of the United States. The certificates are to be issued by the Secretary of the Treasury to pay the appropriations of this and the last Congress. Gorman said the Appropriations Committee rejected the amendment. Mills said Congress should not adjourn without making some provision for the Treasury. The amendment was laid on the table by a vote of 42 to 9.

Little Sam, the Indian murderer, saved the county considerable expense by pronouncing the death sentence on himself and then executing the sentence.

Wadsworth had a sensation Tuesday evening by the report that J. E. Blanther, the murderer of Mrs. Phillips, Langfeldt at San Francisco, was in town. A German named Harden, was arrested on the strength of a taump's story and his resemblance to the picture of Blanther, but he was soon released.

FROM THE NORTH COUNTRY.
Political and Other Observations From an Old Nevadan.

SEATTLE, May 15, 1896.

EDITOR JOURNAL.—The outcome of the mint robbery affair and sentence of Jones, caused some surprise to those acquainted with his associations, although the general opinion seemed to be, that if not directly guilty of the charge preferred, he must have been cognizant of some wrong doing.

John T. has several friends here who feel sorry at his downfall, but all with whom I have conversed on the subject, are of the opinion that many so-called "big-bangs" had a finger in the pie, and express the hope that such will share the penalty as well as the profit.

The political pot here has commenced to simmer, with the G. O. P. strongly in the ascendancy, and the McKinley flag flying ascending to the summit of the flag pole. The A. P. A., which has a large membership all through this State, seem to be in favor of Me, and from what I can learn a large percentage of the organization will support the Republican ticket. Of course this opinion from a comparative stranger must be taken cum grano salis.

I attended a convention last week, for the election of delegates to the State Convention to be held at Everett next Wednesday and am compelled to say that never in my travels have I seen a more respectable gathering than that, and I tell you, sir, that in no city of the Pacific Coast can you find a community which evidences more intelligence and respectability than Seattle; no, not even dear old Nevada, and that is saying a great deal.

Business is very dull and the weather simply horrible, at least for an old sagebrush, rain continuously, damp and miserable, but to an old resident of the Sound, such remarks are not permissible, for while the newcomer is shivering as he walks the old settler goes hopping along like a bird in springtime.

The Alaska craze seems to be somewhat subsiding, owing, no doubt to the unfavorable accounts of those who, a few weeks ago, crowded every small craft that sailed from here. Why, sir, there were hundreds who left for that icebound country, without a dollar after paying their passage money, and from a gentleman just returned I learned that starvation is staring hundreds in the face, and where the help is to come from he is unable to tell. This is the report from many sources, and all right thinking persons ought to do all in their power to discourage the immigration of poor men to those inhospitable regions.

In this State, and especially Seattle, a boom in business affairs is confidently expected, in consequence of so many improvements contemplated and some of which are now under construction. Thousands of mechanics and day laborers will be needed on Government works, on corrals, docks, and harbor defenses, and before another month there will be an influx of that class of men. Without any attempt at booming the State, I think it impossible for any man of ordinary sense to reside a year in Seattle and not arrive at the meeting adjourned.

The meeting was large, every seat being filled and was harmonious from opening to close.

At the Theatre.

A large audience greeted Shaw's big company last night at the Opera House. The play was Fogg's Ferry, and was wonderfully amusing. Sam Shaw, as the old drunken ferryman, acted the part to perfection.

Miss Jessie Shirley as Chip Fogg, won a warm place in every person's heart in the audience.

Lew Rose as Still Bill, was immense, and his appearance on the stage was all that was necessary to create a hearty laugh. Mr. Rose is a good comedian and enters into any character he portrays with an energy that is praiseworthy. Besides this, he is a good jolly fellow and although he has only been in town two or three days, it seems as if he had lived here always. Lew is his name and everybody addresses him as familiarly as though they had attended school with him. He makes friends everywhere and is perfectly at home with everyone.

To-night "Caprice" will be given. It is a rural play with the usual farm scenes, etc., but mixed with enough of city duplicity to make it interesting. Remember the prices are only 10, 20 and 30 cents.

Both of the contracting parties are popular young people of Reno, and the good wishes of everyone will be with them. In local or charitable entertainments or wherever either could give a helping hand, they have always been foremost. While society will miss them in a measure as young people, their marriage will all the better enable them to continue together the good work in every deserving cause, and in which they have always been identified.

Sunderland's Mammoth Store Read John Sunderland's new advertisement in today's issue. He has just opened up his spring stock of gents' suits, outing shirts, fancy neckwear, cycling suits, hats, caps, etc. In addition to this he has a large stock of ladies' and misses' shoes, as fine an assortment as can be found in any first-class shoe store in San Francisco. His large stock is complete in every particular and his two big stores compare favorably with the largest stocks in the same lines in many of the large cities.

When Nature Needs assistance it may be best to render it promptly, but one should remember to use even the most perfect remedies only when needed. The best and most simple and gentle remedy is the Syrup of Figs, manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Company.

Coronado Coronado! Natural mineral water bottled at the springs, near the Hotel Del Coronado, California H. J. THE SCHOOL MEETING.

Large Attendance—The Candidates Nominated.

The meeting at the Court House last evening was largely attended, many ladies being present. Mr. H. E. Beck was unanimously elected Chairman, and Judge Curlier, Secretary. On motion Mr. R. L. Fulton was elected Assistant Secretary. Mr. Sol. Levy introduced the following resolutions which were adopted:

Resolved, That the people of Reno realize that good public schools are of prime importance both to the education of our children and the prosperity of the town.

Resolved, That while we believe in maintaining them at a high standard of progress and efficiency, we expect from the School Board of Reno such economy in expenditure as is possible without in anywise impairing the efficiency or progress of the public schools.

Resolved, That the public schools are for all our people, and that neither politics nor religion should be introduced in their management.

B. F. Curlier offered the following, which was unanimously adopted:

Resolved, That the citizens of Reno in mass meeting assembled recommend to the voters of Reno School District that the Trustees to be voted for at the coming school election be selected from the list of names presented at this meeting.

There will be a special and important meeting of the Woman's Guild of Trinity Church at Mt. St. William Pinniger's this afternoon at 2 o'clock sharp. All members are earnestly invited to attend.

Mr. E. A. Holman of the New Palace Bakery has employed an expert and artistic baker from San Francisco. Patrons may be assured of the finest of bread, pies, cakes and baker's novelties from now on.

Croner Peers held an inquest over the body of "Little Sam," the murderer and suicide at Wadsworth yesterday. The jury brought in a verdict in accordance with the facts published in yesterday's JOURNAL.

Nott Leete left yesterday for his mine in Plumas county, California. There are 240 acres in the mine and it mills $15 per ton in fine gold. Nott says he is going to stay with it until he gets rich or works it out.

Miss Nettie Arlen of San Jose went to Genoa last week to attend the marriage of her cousin, Miss Mary Dowdell to George Chubuck. While walking across the floor Miss Arlen fell dead, though she was apparently in the best of health.

Governor Budd of California appointed a Lieutenant-Governor to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Lieutenant-Governor Millard. The right of the Governor to appoint is questioned and the Supreme Court will be asked to decide the question.

Father Kiley writes friends that his health is improving and he expects to return to his Reno parish sometime next month and expect to participate in the conservation services at Sacramento which will create his old time friend, Father Grace, a Bishop.

W. H. Lowell, Chief Clerk of the Con. Cal. & Va. Minting Company, died at San Francisco Tuesday evening. Mr. Lowell was taken to California a few days ago in the hope that a change of climate would benefit him, but having been in poor health for some time, but a complication of diseases and advanced age were against his recovery. He was 76 years of age.

Captain A. D. Griffin has returned from California, where he spent the winter months. He is in excellent health and spirits. He says the silver question is discussed in California fully as much as in Nevada. The great depreciation in the price of real estate and farm products has forced even many of the gold standard men to admit that free coinage is essential to prosperity.

Vivian. Viavi is more of a food than a medicine. I should be glad to have those who do not understand its use, call and get a Health Book free and read the home testimonials. Viavi sales in 1895 exceeded those in 1894 by half a million dollars. Mrs. B. E. Hunter, Fourth Street.
